

Hingham Ladies Club

October 2009 Newsletter

Dear Ladies:

The fall season is upon us and the Ladies Club has many activities planned to keep you busy! The opening banquet is the official start of our year; thank you to Barbara Falvey and Peggy Hovsepian for planning this eagerly anticipated dinner and fashion show at the Hatherly Country Club. Scheduled to model outfits from Appleseed's in Hanover are members Mary Donahue, Dorothy Flett, Peggy Hovsepian, Ruth Scully and Nancy Tolman. Thank you to all!

The membership directory/yearbook is to be distributed at the banquet. If you are not in attendance it will be mailed to you. Thank you to Barbara Leonard and Millie Hill of the Membership/Yearbook committee. We appreciate the time and effort they spent on this project!

We have a games luncheon planned for Wednesday, October 14, 2009 at the Abington Ale House in Abington; hostesses will be Diane Fischer and Betty Patterson. The last newsletter included the flyer for the games luncheon on September 23, 2009 at Bridgeman's, thank you to hostesses Susan Chessler and Marie Hamilton-Worswick. Also included last month was the flyer for the tour and lunch at the Boston Public Library on October 1, 2009, thank you to Millie Hill for coordinating this trip. There may still be time to sign up for these events; check the flyers for reservation due dates.

Pat Ribaldo has an exciting theater night planned for Thursday, October 22, 2009. We'll start with dinner at Papa Razzi in Hanover followed by Arsenic and Old Lace at the Company Theatre. This is a smart, funny play made famous with the movie version starring Cary Grant. If timing is an issue you may choose just the play; either way, this will certainly be a fun night out!

As we celebrate our 20th anniversary, the town of Hingham is celebrating its 375th! Ladies Club members Ann Burnaby, Joan Snowber and Cynthia Wilkins are on the planning committee and encourage you to join in the celebration. There will be a golf tournament on September 18, 2009 at South Shore Country Club and a tennis tournament to be held on September 19, 2009. Additional activities are planned; information is available on the town website at www.hingham-ma.gov.

How great it is to be a member of this wonderful group of women in this wonderful town! Go and enjoy!

Very truly yours,

Susan M. Bradley
President
